Self Assessment: Appeal against penalties for late filing and late payment

About this form

Please read the SA370 Notes before you fill in this form to appeal against a penalty for sending your tax return late or paying your tax late, or both. Using this form will help us identify your appeal and deal with it quicker.

Send this form to Self Assessment, HM Revenue and Customs, BX9 1AS within 30 days of the date shown on the front of your penalty notice. Late appeals may be accepted if you explain the reason for the extra delay.

If you have not already done so, send us your tax return and pay any tax you owe now, to avoid further penalties.

To find out more about Self Assessment appeals, go to www.gov.uk/tax-appeals/penalty

Please use black or blue ink and capital letters to fill in the boxes.

If you need more space, continue on a separate sheet of paper and attach this to the back of your appeal.

Following a substantial investment in Konnektis Communications Ltd, the company suffered a serious data breach which led to a huge impact on our client's health. Following that, in the early stages of the pandemic, our client had a cancer scare which involved moderately invasive diagnostics which is ongoing and Mr Howells found the stresses of trying to keep Konnektis solvent, support customers and prevent redundancies extremely overwhelming. The company suffered greatly during the pandemic which was financially devastating for our client personally and ultimately led to Mr Howells having to receive private medical treatment for physical and mental exhaustion by mid 2021.

We trust you will consider our client's reasons behind the late filing of the return sympathetically. Mr Howells is now recovering and receiving ongoing medical support, and has since brought his tax affairs up to date as soon as he was able.
